Part Number Change Notification

Dear Customer

The ceramic raw material that is used to product our MPC ceramic heat sinks series is due to go end of life at the end of 2023. Thankfully the factory that produces this product series has managed to source another raw material although this is light grey in colour rather than dark grey.

Please be advised that the new raw material will not offer any difference in performance to the current material and is a colour change only. Currently we are working through our stock of the current material, and will gradually transfer to the new coloured material once our current stocks are exhausted. As this is a colour change only, we will continue to use the current part numbers for the new coloured product.

The below part numbers will be affected by this issue:

MPC101020T
MPC151525T
MPC202025T
MPC222225T
MPC252525T
MPC303025T
MPC303050WT
MPC404025T

Best regards
